ERIE MEDICAL CO., 64 Niagara St., BUFFALO, N. Y.

A Drama With a Factory Ending For All but the Nervous Woman.

It was perfectly obvious that the man in the corner was crazy. At least it was perfectly obvious to the nervous looking woman who sat just opposite him in the cable car. It was not so much the mystical series of zigzag signals which he was making with his handkerchief as the amazing contortions of his face. In the intervals of these contortions he stared intently in the direction of his nervous vis-a-vis, but at nothing in the world, so vague was his look. Then he would tap the bridge of his nose with his finger, grimace and screw up his features into horrible expressions of malignant madness.

The poor woman didn't know what to do. Her alarm was so apparent that all the others in the car noticed it, even the man himself in one of his lucid intervals, and thereafter his performances became more violent than ever. Every physician knows that maniacs delight in playing upon the terrors of those who exhibit fear of them. Perhaps the woman herself knew it. At any rate her feelings finally reached an intensity such that when the man half rose from his seat she shrank into her corner with a stifled squeal, which brought from him a glance of triumph, or perhaps it was surprise. But he only sank back again, with an expression of disappointment, as if his time had not yet come, which indeed it hadn't. Thereafter she held herself gathered close, with every muscle strained, ready to spring and flee. She didn't have long to wait.

The man looked toward her with that terrible, unseeing glare. His fists clinched. The handkerchief clinched in one of them jerked in short, sharp scapillations. His eyes began to bulge out. His face became purple. Beneath his curling lips could be seen his teeth, bare to the gums. He leaned forward toward the horror-stricken woman, his face protruding almost into hers. His sharp, hot breath was on her cheek, and just as his arms went up to clutch she made one bound from her

CASTLES IN THE AIR.

A San Francisco Paper Devotes A Column to Reno as a Sporting Center.

The San Francisco Call devotes a column to the possibilities of Reno as a sporting center. Since the carnival at Carson on the 17th of March, a number of Renosites have been working on a project to organize a stock company, build a large pavilion, and plan to offer inducements to sporting managers to arrange for attractions at this point. With this in view, those originating the movement, after securing the endorsement of leading men in this community, also on the Comstock have reached out further and made overtures to the athletic associations of San Francisco, and to leading railroad men to take stock and help the matter along.

They have received substantial encouragement in the way of subscribers to stock from prominent men connected with these several corporations, and it is expected that within a few days, the Reno Athletic Association will be organized on a solid footing, and the incorporation papers duly filed.

The idea has been kept comparatively quiet, the promoters desiring to move slowly in the matter until success is assured; the directors and officers chosen, and in fact the scheme started on a basis that would indicate business and permanency.

It is proposed to build a large and permanent pavilion that can be used not only for fistic exhibitions, but events of various kinds, as well as a large gymnasium, etc. The seating capacity will be immense, also the floor room will be ample for athletic exhibitions and contests of all kinds. The plans are now being drawn and will be on exhibition in a day or two. The building will be substantial as well as ornamental, with superior conveniences and modern improvements. The roof will be, to a great extent, covered with glass, and in fact the building is to be a veritable crystal palace.

The Call gets its information from Mr. P. J. Donohue, the architect who constructed the arena at Carson, and while Mr. Donohue has no doubt been consulted, no definite plans or arrangements had been settled upon when he gave the tip to the Call.

Mr. Donohue says: "It is the intention of the club, which was recently organized and which will be incorporated in a few days, to give a week's entertainment, commencing on July 1st, which will attract lovers of different varieties of sport from all parts of the country."

"In July, there are thousands of pleasure-seekers rusticated at the lakes and mountain resorts, and of course a grand carnival of sport which the Reno people contemplate giving cannot fail to induce those seekers of health and pleasure to visit Reno, which is within easy reach of Lakes Donner, Independence, Webber and Tahoe."

"Besides, the lovers of good sport will journey from all parts of the coast as railroad travel will be low and the attraction will be of such a nature as to induce sporting men to visit the Monte Carlo of the far West."

"Now, I understand that negotiations will be immediately entered into between the managers of the most prominent pugilists of America and the Reno club with a view of having the best possible attractions—that is, of course, pugilistically speaking—at Reno, in July. If possible, Joe Goddard and Peter Maher, Jeffries and Sharkey, Lavigne and Gans and Green and Ryan will be matched to box to a finish."

"Then there will be a grand tug-of-war tournament between teams representing some of the large cities of the West. A day of wrestling matches, including catch-as-catch can, Greco-Roman, Cornish and collar-and-elbow styles, mounted broadsword contests, and possibly a live-bird pigeon shoot."

"Well, in fact, all varieties of sport that will attract public attention will be introduced during the first week in July."

"I will leave for Reno in a few days to look after the construction of the hotel and arena, which will be built within the ground that is now surrounded by the old walls of the unfinished State Prison."

"You can rest assured that the Reno people are determined to be in the swim, and I have every reason to believe that the club will spare no expense in procuring the best attractions that can be got for the July carnival."

Of course, Mr. Donohue's ideas regarding the building of an arena and hotel within the grounds surrounded by the prison walls are somewhat visionary as the consent of, or the purchase of the property from the State would be an obstacle to overcome. However in the main his statement is correct as far as the general plans and movement is concerned and we may still live in the hope that the project will reach the expectations of its promoters.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys, will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 60c. per bottle at Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

School Shoes.
Tassell Brothers have a large and fine assortment of shoes for school children which parents are invited to call and inspect as they are being sold at a very low rate.

student Congress.
The Student Congress met at the court-house last evening at the usual hour, Speaker Stubbs presiding. After the reading of the Journal and the transaction of a large amount of routine business, the Assembly resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, Geo. Bliss in the Chair. A motion was made and carried asking Judge A. E. Cheney to address the students. The Judge kindly consented, making a very interesting and instructive talk on "How students should prepare themselves for debates."

A vote of thanks was tendered the Judge for his kindly address, after which bills were introduced, and an engrossing clerk was elected. For the first time in the history of the Congress the "dillbustener" appeared, and for a reason when in Committee of the Whole seemed to flourish, like "a green bay tree," but came to grief later on when the Speaker had resumed the gavel.

Members were selected to participate in the debate between the Congress and the Debating Club, after which the Assembly adjourned until next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Two Lives Saved.
Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life.

Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried with-out result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this remedy for coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.

Look Out for Him.

The Virginia officers have determined to rid the town of several vile characters and commenced their work yesterday morning by giving one L. O. Jaques a chance to jump the town pending sentence for vagrancy or go into the chain gang for an indefinite period. "According to the dishing up the Chronicle of last evening gave him, it would be a good idea for the local officers to look out for him and if he shows his mug around here give him a short shift."

From a Woman's Standpoint.

The Reno Dramatic Club, which recently made such a hit in the "Ensign," will present the great comedy, "From a Woman's Standpoint," at the Opera House, Friday April 23d. This is a play full of the most amusing comedy, and deals with women's rights and politics. If you have the blues this play will dispel them. If you are happy this will make you more so. Box sheet opens at Lake's on Monday morning, April 16th, reserved seats 50 cents.

Band Concert.

The concert to be given by the University Band at Assembly Hall next Wednesday promises to be a musical treat. The boys have improved wonderfully and will surprise their friends. The admission has been placed at 25 cents so that everybody can attend. In connection with the concert a lecture will be given and will be illustrated with stereoscopic views. Everyone should attend. The object is a good one, so help the boys out.

A Fractional Man on Trib.

No veterinarian on the Pacific Coast has had a longer experience, nor has any man had a more successful practice with horses than Dr. Burns, of Virginia, Nev.

He makes the following statement:

VIRGINIA CITY, Jan. 27, '07.

A valuable mare driven by Superintendent Lyman of the Con. Virginia mine on the Comstock lode, had been in the stable unable to work, from the kick of another animal, received on the inside of the right foreleg above the knee. The skin had been broken and the muscles and tendons severely bruised. During a week's time I had given the limb such treatment, as from thirty years' professional experience I thought beneficial; but without avail. The leg was swollen to nearly twice its natural size, and the swelling would not yield to treatment. On Thursday evening, June 18, 1896, I made the first application of the liniment, Trib, thoroughly rubbing in half a six ounce bottle over the whole leg. I applied it regularly twice a day for the next three days. On the fourth day the mare went to work completely cured—the most surprising and satisfactory cure coming under my observation during a lifetime devoted to the treatment of horses.

During the past eight months, I have used your liniment regularly in my practice. Trib fulfills all its promises. An especially valuable feature of Trib is that while it has all the penetrating strength of the most powerful liniments it does not blister.

For love of the horse and the fellowship of horsemen, I offer this testimony. I know that Trib will benefit both.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician: FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895. This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is equalized to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.
